General Comment

Dear Sir, This rule absolutely must not be passed!! I have been trading options in my IRA for many years now and I am very familiar with how and why they are used. They have allowed me to add more income to my portfolio as well as help protect the downside to my entry points in the stocks in my portfolio. There are millions of us who are investors not speculators, who understand how to manage our money and we certainty do not need the government to try " to protect us from ourselves". I view this as a very serious matter and this rule must not pass!!!

Sincerely, Michael Browning (retired senior citizen)
